

The Timberline Experience

Experience Counts

At Timberline Construction Group Western, we believe that the experience of working with our company is as important as the 22 years of experience we bring to a project.

In addition to delivering top quality results that meet our client's objectives, Timberline provides a consistently high level of professionalism, communication, responsiveness and focus throughout each project we undertake. Our clients benefit not only from Timberline's proven construction capability but also the exceptional team synergy and close working relationships we promote. Building with Timberline is a constructive experience in every sense of the word.

Timberline provides a consistently high level of professionalism, communication, responsiveness and focus throughout each project we undertake.

Experience Integrity

Long-term relationships are the norm for Timberline. The majority of our projects are with repeat clients who appreciate the value that Timberline brings to the Project Team. Our transparent and honest approach to business is evident from the start and governs all our dealings with owners, architects, principal consultants, sub-contractors and suppliers. It has earned us consistent repeat business and contributed to a high level of respect in the industry.

Experience Quality

Timberline has extensive experience in constructing projects where attention to detail and a high level of quality are critical. Our employees and contractors are meticulous professionals who deliver work of the highest caliber, right from the start. They are committed to ensuring that all phases of the construction, from planning to final finishing, are completed to exacting standards. Over and above the quality workmanship evident in our buildings themselves, we take pride in managing the construction process in a manner that ensures accuracy and responsibility at every stage, avoiding the pitfalls of unrealistic time and budget estimates.

Experience Value

Timberline's organizational ability, technical strength, skilled personnel and production efficiency has given the company a well-earned reputation of delivering projects that meet our client's objectives. Our ability to build comprehensive projects can be seen throughout Vancouver, the Lower Mainland, Squamish, Whistler and southern Ontario. Our proven approach results in the best building, with the most value for the money, accomplished in an effective, proactive manner.

Whatever Timberline's mandate, our involvement ensures alignment to the common goal of building and completing the project quickly and cost effectively.

Experience Flexibility

Depending on client needs and preferences, Timberline services are offered in both General Contracting and Construction Management formats.

Clients who want the security of a fixed price contract can choose to work with Timberline under a traditional general contract arrangement. For those clients preferring a more hands-on approach or a fast track development, a construction management contract may be desired. In other instances, Timberline can be called on to come in at the drawing development stage to provide pre-construction services including value engineering, scheduling and a review of construction systems and methodology.

We appreciate your interest in Timberline and look forward to the opportunity of working with you to see your project through to a successful conclusion.
